But the graduating Class—You have completing in this school and now pass on to other fields of effort. What do you take with you? Your parents and friends, your teachers and schoolmates hope first of all that you take a strong desire to continue your progressalong the path of knowledge. You never will reach the end of this path.
The further you go the more you will appreciate the vastness of truth, the littleness of your own powers.

But the greatest thing about any of us is our capacity for progress, Whatever your work in life, whatever your opportunities or limitations, if you make steady progress, morally and intellectually, you will be of use in this

The mission at Sacred Heart church The mission at Sacred Heart church, which has in every way been a successful one, closed with the mass on Monday morning. After the mass Rev. P. J. Casey spoke of the pleasure he had experienced in meeting the people; also of the good air and beautiful scenery of Norwich. Sunday evening there was a good attendance, All through the mission many men have been present at the services. In behalf of the trustees of the school, I now present you with you Class President John Palvey McCor-nick represented the class in making the usual parting gift to the school, which this year was the sum of $50 for a running track and $10 more for a for a running track and $10 more for a tablet. He spoke as follows:

It is my great pleasure to present to you for the class of 1912 the customary class gift. This year it takes the form of a sum of $50 to be used in the construction of a running track around the athletic field. There is also a sum of $10 for a suitable tablet upon which shall be engraved the names of the various other donors.

In selecting this gift we do so with the idea that athletics are beneficial to the high school student, and it being impossible for all to play baseball and football, we feel that this track will give ample opportunity for everyone to been present at the services.

Rev. Father Casey summed up the instruction given, urged his hearers to be sure not to omit attendance at mass to renew their baptismal yows, and to remember and practice all that he had told them. He wished that Holy Name and Sacred Heart societies might be formed in the parish. Rev. P. J. Casey is well and favora-bly known in New England and the Middle states as a learned divine. He has not only given missions to the laity for many years but also to the priesus and sisters of Hartford diocese. Two years ago he preached at the retreat for the Hartford diocese held at Mau-resta Institute, Keyser Island, South our graduates have succeeded on col-lege track teams, and it goes without saying that Academy students will bring distinction both to themselves and to the school when they have the benefits of earlier training. This gift is only a slight token of our appreciation, and I hope in the years to come we may be better able to show our gratitude for that great gift of education we have received from you. Local Interest in Hartford Wedding Friends here were interested in the announcement in Monday's Bulletin of the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Abby Forbes of Hartford and C. Harry Branche of Willimantic, which took place in Hartford Saturday afternoon.
